SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT UNDER ESSA: HOW STATE AND DISTRICT LEADERS ARE USING EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT POLICY AND PRACTICE

Keck Center
E Street Room
500 Fifth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20001
July 23, 2019

Participant List

Amy Berman
Deputy Director, National Academy of Education

Heather Boughton
Director, Office of Research, Evaluation & Advanced Analytics, Ohio Department of Education

Faith Connolly
Executive Director, Baltimore Education Research Consortium, Johns Hopkins University

Jim Cowen
Executive Director, Collaborative for Student Success

Sarah Dickson
Research Manager, Chicago Public Schools

John Q. Easton
Senior Fellow, Consortium on School Research, University of Chicago

Andrea Faulkner
Assistant Director, Office for Improvement and Innovation, Ohio Department of Education

Maria Ferguson
Executive Director, Center on Education Policy, The George Washington University
Michael Feuer
Dean, Graduate School of Education and Human Development, The George Washington University

Joshua Glazer
Associate Professor, Graduate School of Education and Human Development, The George Washington University

Jeffrey R. Henig
Professor of Political Science and Education, Teachers College, Columbia University

Karen Holley
Coordinator of Federal Programs, Nye County School District, Nevada

Sara Kerr
Vice President of Education Policy Implementation, Results for America

Mark King
Instructional Leadership Executive Director, Network 6, Baltimore City Public Schools

Nancy Kober
Editorial Consultant, Center on Education Policy, The George Washington University

Henry May
Director, Center for Research in Education and Social Policy, University of Delaware

Amanda Paz
School Improvement Planning Manager, Chicago Public Schools

Diane Stark Rentner
Deputy Director, Center on Education Policy, The George Washington University

Peter Rivera
Education Program Officer, William and Flora Hewlett Foundation

David Sherer
Associate in Evidence and Analytics, The Carnegie Foundation

Lindsey Tepe
Fellow, Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, U.S. Senate

Kathryn Young
Senior Policy Advisor, Education Counsel, LLC